Dear Senator Byrd:

This is to advise you of the final result of our interview with [redacted] who was referred to us by your office.

As indicated in our letter of 6 November 1962 to you, [redacted] was initially interviewed on 31 October. Since that time, we have talked further with [redacted] about the possibilities for his service with us, but it has been mutually agreed that we do not have a current opening which would be comparable in importance to his present work at this time. Accordingly, we are taking no further action on his application.

We appreciated your referral of [redacted]

Sincerely,
